

DIS40

Young Arbitrators Sweden (YAS) and the German Arbitration Institute Initiative for Young Arbitrators (DIS40) invite you to attend a panel discussion and drinks at Törngren Magnell's office in Stockholm!

We welcome you to a panel discussion and drinks in Stockholm on 18 February 2019. During the evening we will listen to a discussion between Kristoffer Stråth, Törngren Magnell, Eric Johnson, Cederquist, Gustav Flecke-Giammarco, Seven Summits Arbitration, member of the DIS rules revision committee and Dr. Sven Lange, Allen & Overy, who will discuss Less is more, or is more best? A discussion on the evolution of institutional rules. The discussion will touch upon questions regarding the consequences that may come of arbitration institutions adopting more extensive and detailed arbitration rules, if the trend of increasing regulation within institutional arbitration is in the parties', practitioners' and proceedings best interest, and if ad hoc arbitration is a better alternative (if ever) to institutional arbitration and vice versa.

The discussion will be moderated by Alexander Foerster, Mannheimer Swartling.

After the discussion Törngren Magnell will treat us to drinks and a light buffet.

Date: Monday 18 February 2019

Time: 17.30–20.30

Venue: Advokatfirman Törngren Magnell, Västra Trädgårdsgatan 8, Stockholm, Sweden

Please register for the event by e-mail to molly.malhotra@norburgscherp.se no later than 11 February 2019. Attendance is free of charge. If you have any questions, please contact erik.wrisemo@norburgscherp.se or cecilia.ohrskog@cederquist.se.

We look forward to seeing you!
