Navigating Third Party Litigation Funding in Germany: Challenges and Opportunities in the European Context

As litigation funding becomes more prevalent across Europe, new questions arise: how do we balance access to justice with transparency? What standards should apply to funders and funding agreements? And how will the proposed EU Directive – known as the “Voss Report” – reshape the regulatory landscape?

Join us for a focused debate on the current and future state of third party litigation funding in Germany and the EU. Our panel of experts from leading law firms and litigation funders will explore the practical, ethical and legal implications of the funding boom, from commercial disputes to investment arbitration.

Expect a sharp, interactive discussion with actionable insights for in-house counsel, litigators and practitioners navigating this evolving field.
