

DIS40

DIS40 International Online Conference 2021

Big Data and Foreseeability of Decision Making in International Arbitration

Artificial intelligence will increasingly shape national and international dispute resolution in the future, just like any other area of life. Nonetheless, decisions are still made by human beings based on their personal conviction and considering specific factual and legal situations. Accordingly, predicting their decisions may appear impossible. Yet, technology is evolving faster than ever and more and more service providers advertise their ability to predict outcomes of arbitral decisions. But is this really possible or are these just empty promises? And what would it mean for our legal practice? We would like to discuss these and other questions with you and our speakers at our International Online Conference 2021.

Date: Tuesday, 13 April 2021, 5:30 -8:00 pm CET

Location: Online via Zoom

Programme

- 5:30 pm – 5:45 pm Check-in, welcome & opening remarks
- 5:45 pm – 6:30 pm Debate: Can artificial intelligence predict the outcome of an arbitration – if not now, when?
Maxi Scherer, Professor at Queen Mary, University of London, and Special Counsel at WilmerHale, London
Isabel Yishu Yang, Founder & CEO, ArbiLex, Boston
- 6:30 pm – 6:50 pm Interactive session with the audience (1-2-4 method)
- 6:50 pm – 7:00 pm Coffee Break
- 7:00 pm – 7:45 pm Panel Discussion: benefits and downsides of the current trend to transparency and data collection in international arbitration
Lisa Beisteiner, Partner, Zeiler Floyd Zadkovich, Vienna
Svenja Wachtel, Digital Coffee Break in Arbitration, Munich
Jakob Hübert, Senior Case Manager & Head of Frankfurt Office, Nivalion AG, Frankfurt a.M.
Alexander Steinbrecher, Head of Group Corporate, M&A and Legal Affairs, Bombardier Transportation, Berlin and Of Counsel at WAGNER Arbitration, Berlin
- 7:45 pm – 8:00 pm Follow-up discussion and end of official programme
The event will be followed by a virtual networking via Wonder

Moderators

Markus Altenkirch, Baker & McKenzie, London

Johanna Büstgens, HANEFELD, Hamburg

Elizabeth Hincapié, Harsco Rail, Düsseldorf

Registration

Please register by e-mail: clientevents@bakermckenzie.com

Kind regards,

Annabelle, Elizabeth, Johanna, Markus and Moritz

DIS40 Co-Chairs